This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

WEST RIDING ELECTION.

THE POLL

FOR

A KNIGHT OF THE SHIRE

FOR THE

WEST RIDING OF YORKSHIRE,

IN THE ROOM OF LORD VISCOUNT MORPETH, (SUCCEEDED TO THE PEERAGE AS EARL OF CARLISLE,)

ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, DEC. 14th AND 15th, 1848.

Candidates.

EDMUND DENISON, ESQUIRE.

SIR CULLING EARDLEY EARDLEY, BARONET.

COMPILED BY T. PLINT, ESQ.

BIBLIOTHECA BODLEIANA

LEEDS:

PUBLISHED BY GEORGE CROSBY, 20, QUEEN'S PLACE.

1849.

Gough Adds. Yorkshire 8° 135.

PREFACE.

EXPLANATORY.

For the satisfaction and direction of many who may consult this Poll Book, the following statement is needful.

Former Poll Books have been compiled from the Sheriff's returns, by his special permission ;—as, however, these returns are now transmitted to the home office immediately after an election, it has been necessary to resort to other sources of information. In the present instance, the polling has been marked from the Check-clerks's returns, carefully compared with the registers marked in the poll booths at the time of voting.

It is almost unnecessary to say, that perfect correctness in recording some 28,000 votes is impossible, even by the Sheriff's representatives ; and that a perfect Poll Book is only attainable by a comparison of the Sheriff's returns with the books of the Committees of the respective candidates, and when these differ, resorting to the voter. That course was not practicable in this instance ; but it is believed, whatever accuracy was attainable by a careful and patient comparison of available materials, has been secured.

The votes for the respective candidates are indicated by the numerals 1 (Denison), and 2 (Eardley). The omission of these numerals indicates that the elector did not vote ; but persons consulting the book are specially requested to note, that many names which appear on the register of particular townships, are altogether omitted in the Poll Book. In all these cases, the same name will be found recorded in some other township, the elector having two or more qualifications. So far as these duplicate or triplicate qualifications of the same elector are known, the plan of expunging all but one has been adopted; that one, if the elector polled, being the qualification for which he chose to vote. If the elector did not vote, selection has been made of that qualification, the proximity of which to his residence would enable him to vote with the least personal trouble. As there are upwards of 2,300 of these surplus entries on the register, the omission of names in particular townships will be found very frequent.

THE EDITOR.

INTRODUCTION.

This Election took place in consequence of the removal of Lord Morpeth to the House of Lords on the demise of his father, the Earl of Carlisle, who died on the 7th Oct., 1848.

The following is the Farewell Address of Lord Morpeth :—

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST RIDING OF YORKSHIRE.

GENTLEMEN,—I do not purpose to obtrude upon you the sorrows of a private home, but I cannot forget that they involve the termination of the political connexion which it has long been an honour and happiness for me to hold.

For the space of eighteen years, with one interval, and upon no less than ten occasions, has it been my high fortune to be elected by you as your Representative, in conjunction at the earlier periods with the electors of the whole County of York, whom on account of many common interests, and many common favours, I could almost wish to be allowed to associate with you in the terms of my present respectful and grateful Farewell.

It was to be expected that during so extended a time of service, comprising the agitation of questions which stirred the depths of almost every political, social, and religious feeling, I must have occasionally found myself obliged in my views to disappoint the wishes, and in my public conduct to act at variance with the convictions of successive classes of my Constituents. Neither can I fail to be apprehensive that my tenure of busy offices under the Crown during the larger portion of my representative service must necessarily have often unduly curtailed the attention which I should have wished to devote to their important local concerns. I never yet, however, found them inclined to put an uncandid construction on my motives or my proceedings; and I trust that I may bear with me, during the remaining portion of my life, the assurance of their indulgent estimate of the past.

It will always be a source of unmixed pleasure to me if any future opportunities should present themselves for showing that my gratitude to them is not a superficial or transitory feeling.

Having just returned from paying the sad offices to the dead, I wish to devote to you, Gentlemen, the last signature of a name which I unaffectedly feel has derived its chief illustration from its connexion with you,

Your ever grateful Servant,

MORPETH.

Castle-Howard, October 17, 1848.

The Right Hon. Charles Wentworth Fitzwilliam, youngest son of Earl Fitzwilliam, presented himself as a Candidate, and issued an address to the Electors on the 24th Oct. Mr. Fitzwilliam was the only candidate who offered himself to the constituency until the 21st Nov., when he commenced his canvassing tour at Leeds, at which place his reception was so unfavourable, that on the following day he withdrew. Immediately after the withdrawal of Mr. Fitzwilliam was made known, Sir Culling Eardley

Eardley, Bart., was invited by the liberal party to offer himself as a candidate, who complied with the invitation, and issued the following address:—

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE WEST-RIDING OF YORKSHIRE.

London, 40, Upper Brook Street, Nov. 23rd, 1848.

GENTLEMEN,—An invitation, as unexpected as it is gratifying, has just been conveyed to me from a numerous body of Electors, to allow myself to be put in Nomination to Represent your Riding.

My first and overwhelming impression, on receiving such a communication, has been one of personal unworthiness of such an honour. Whatever bearing such an admission may have, it is right to confess that, to a man whose property lies out of your County, though for a short time he Represented one of your Boroughs, and who is unknown by sight to a large proportion of Yorkshiremen,—such an offer is calculated to produce feelings in which gratitude is strongly blended with a disposition to decline the task.

Allow me, however, to state to you the circumstances which have counteracted these first impressions. The grounds on which I have come to the decision to comply with the request to become a Candidate are, in brief, those which have induced a large body of yourselves to forget that my property is South, and not North, of the Humber.

I have been asked to stand, and I now consent to do so, because, while there are three or four subjects on which I entertain strong opinions, there is another on which my views are so long cherished and so firmly held, that I hope there is scarcely any sacrifice which I should not feel it my duty to make in order to secure their triumph.

The principle of entire Freedom of Commerce I desire to see carried out to its fullest development, including a change of our Navigation Laws.

Economy in the Public Finances I desire to see effected, not so much by petty reductions in subordinate offices, as by a bold and manly review of the whole principle and details of our present expenditure. The charge upon the Exchequer is greater now, under a Whig Government, than it was when the Duke of Wellington was in office. I will not presume, in such a hasty address, to say in what exact particulars of our Military, Naval, or Civil Services, reductions ought to be effected; but of this I am certain, that a searching investigation of the whole of these departments is a duty which the distressed condition of the country demands from your Representatives.

With regard to our Representative System, I am grateful for the Reform Act as far as it goes; and if it had gone as far in practice as its supporters anticipated in theory, I should have felt most reluctant to disturb a settlement arrived at after such severe contests. But I desire to see the principle of the Reform Bill carried out. I wish to see elections the real expression of honest public opinion; and I have witnessed so much corruption and intimidation in Elections, that I feel persuaded that we shall never have real Representation without the Ballot. To the success of the Ballot, I believe large constituencies to be essential; independently of which reason for extending the Suffrage, I have a strong conviction that the wider can be made the basis on which our Franchise is founded, consistently with the due qualification of the voter, the safer will be the superstructure of our Constitution, and the better will it be able to resist those storms which are threatening the old despotisms and novel constitutions of the Continent.

To these Economies and Reforms, Peace is essential. It is scarcely needful to say that, both as a politician and as a Christian, I ardently desire and should strenuously labour for its maintenance.

But the point of all others on which I feel it my duty to address you, is on the subject of further Religious Endowments by the State. This is the question which alone induces me to relinquish a life of comparative privacy, and to submit to the labours, responsibilities, and (I may add) privations of a Parliamentary life. Here I feel that my direct duty to God as a Christian coincides with my lower duty as a politician and an Englishman. Putting aside for a moment the abstract question of existing Religious Establishments, I protest against all new Religious Endowments, involving, as they do, putting truth and error on the same level, and erecting a provision for Romanist Priests – the offspring of an insidious and unworthy expediency—by the side of Protestant institutions,—which, whatever may be their abstract propriety, or the contrary, are, at all events, based upon an acknowledgment of Divine truth. To any provision, of any sort or kind, for the Romish priests,—to any transfer of the property of the Irish Establishment, under any plea, however plausible, to the adherents of Rome, I am conscientiously, firmly, irrevocably opposed.

But while I thus object to the Endowment of the Religion of my Romanist fellow-countrymen, I am bound to add that I do also object to the further Endowment of Protestantism; desiring, as I do, that the civil and religious rights of one class of religionists in the state should be as tenderly cherished and firmly maintained as those of another.

The Deputation who have waited upon me are this instant leaving London, and I must abruptly close my communication, I hope to follow them to-morrow to Leeds, and speedily to have the honour of addressing the Electors in some of the chief towns of the Riding.

In the meantime, I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your faithful and obliged Servant,

CULLING EARDLEY EARDLEY.

The Conservative party applied to Mr. Beckett Denison, whose address appeared a few days after.

To the Electors of the West Riding of Yorkshire.

Gentlemen,—Having received an assurance, conveyed to me by a deputation from an influential body of Electors residing in various parts of the West Riding, and entertaining somewhat different political opinions, that my offering myself as a Candidate for the honour of again becoming one of your Representatives would accord with the wishes of a decided majority of the Electors, I have not felt myself at liberty to decline doing so, and I therefore now most respectfully solicit the honour of your Votes and Support at the approaching Election.

Although my Votes and Opinions are upon record, it is due to you that I should touch upon a few of those topics which are now of more immediate interest. With respect to Free Trade, I repeat what I said on the hustings in August 1847, viz., that with the exception of the Duties upon Corn, I had voted for every Reduction of Duty proposed by the Minister of the Day, and I am quite prepared to follow out that course, as far as is consistent with the security of the public creditor. All Duties upon Corn will expire in the course of next Spring, and I think that it would be most impolitic to attempt a revival of them.

The Trade and Finances of the country are in anything but a satisfactory condition, owing to the melancholy state of the Continent; and, although there is a dignified spirit of Loyalty amongst all classes, a patient endurance under severe privations, and a buoyancy in the powers and energies of the country, which I doubt not, under the blessing of Providence, will carry us on to more prosperous times, I think that it is the imperative duty of Parliament to insist upon the utmost possible Reduction of Expense in every Department of the State.

There is another subject which at present deeply engages the attention of the Public: I allude to the Endowment of the Roman Catholic Priesthood. Should I have the honour of being returned as your Representative, and any such measure be brought forward in Parliament, I shall give it my decided opposition.

I must repeat what I took the liberty of stating in 1847, that I feel the deepest interest in all measures proposed for the improvement of the social condition of the people: and, that in my opinion, the Education of the Poor ought to be vigorously promoted, without regarding it in any way as a party question. Nothing can be of greater consequence to the personal welfare of the people, and the permanent well-being of the State, than that elevation of character which Religious Education promotes.

It has, through the greater part of my life, been my pride to take an active part in the affairs of the Riding, and the variety and importance of its interests would make me shrink from the responsibility of again becoming your Representative, did I not feel that the indulgence which I have hitherto experienced at your hands will continue to be extended to me.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your very obedient Servant,

EDMUND DENISON.

Doncaster, November 27, 1848.

The Nomination took place at Wakefield, on Monday, Dec. 11th, and in the absence of YARBURGH GREAME, Esq., (the High Sheriff), WILLIAM GRAY, Esq., the under sheriff, officiated.

JAMES HAMERTON, Esq., of Hellifield Peel, proposed, and FRANCIS CARBUTT, Esq., of Leeds, seconded SIR CULLING EARDLEY, Bart.

The Hon. EDWIN LASCELLES, M.P., proposed, and JOHN RAND, Esq., of Bradford, seconded Mr. DENISON.

Mr. ISAAC IRONSIDES, of Sheffield, proposed, and Mr. RICHARD BROOK, of Huddersfield, seconded Mr. SAMUEL KYDD.

In consequence of the illness of Sir Culling Eardley, who was prevented from being present, JOHN BRIGHT, Esq., M.P., appeared as his representative, and addressed the electors in his behalf. Mr. Denison and Mr. Kydd having also addressed the meeting, the under sheriff called for a show of hands, which he declared to be in favour of SIR CULLING EARDLEY. A Poll being demanded for Mr. Denison, the under sheriff appointed it to take place on Thursday and Friday.

On the day fixed for making the Official Declaration of the Poll, (Monday, Dec., 18th,) the under sheriff again presided, and announced the final state of the Poll to be as follows:

For Mr. Denison	14,743	Votes
For Sir Culling Eardley ...	11,795	„
Majority for Denison ...	2,948	„

The Meeting was then addressed by Mr. Denison, and afterwards by Sir Culling Eardley, who had recovered sufficiently to enable him to appear on this day.

Subjoined is a List of Elections for the Riding since 1832, with Tables of the Official Returns.
